"In 1979 the First Alcohol Traffic Course was given in the prison "DE Raam" in Grave. (The results of an evaluation study on this project were reported in the abstracts of T'86 in Amsterdam by R. Bovens and E. Lambregts). In 1985 a simular project started in Assen. This project dealt with offenders for drunk driving outside of the prison.

This project was also evaluated. The results of both studies (Grave and Assen) were discussed in a thesis, october 1991, by R. Bovens.

Because the success of both of the projects, drunk drivers have at the moment the possibility to follow a course in every district in the Netherlands at. There is a general evaluation study on these courses. The results will definitively be reported september 1992".
